

The Ishk Center of Silver Spring
Presents:

The Awakened Healer

An Experiential Seminar with Devi Tide

October 24-26 2008

Through the use of sound, music, humor and meditative practices of ancient Sufi tradition, Devi will introduce participants to a transformational process that awakens and deepens the qualities of intuition, insight and inspiration, and elicits a deeper experience of the power of the Divine Spirit to heal. The stages of development of the healer; the development of a healing presence; specific methods for cultivating balance, rhythm, and the art of repose will be explored. Discover a deeper well of awakening and oneness for working not only with loss, illness, grief, trauma, and stress, but also with love, blessing, value, connectivity, peace and joy throughout all levels of being, for oneself and others.

Devi Tide has over thirty years of experience as a healer, retreat guide, and teacher of spiritual healing practices and meditation. In addition to degrees in psychological counseling, she has received training in massage And Polarity Therapy. For thirty years, she studied closely with Pir Vilayat Inayat Khan, late head of the Sufi Order International and an internationally renowned meditation master and spiritual leader. For fifteen years, she also studied closely with Dr Himayat Inayati. She has led healing retreats and seminars all over the world, and speaks internationally on healing. Retreatants can expect to acquire a variety of techniques that bring valuable adjuncts to diagnosis and treatment, and methods of self-care and personal growth.

To register, or for more information contact Ramana Smallen

At 301-922-6537, or ramana3@verizon.net

Tuition: $215 if registered before October 5. $240 thereafter.

One day tuition; $100

Half price for those under 30 and over 65.

Held at the Ishk Center; 12422 New Hampshire Ave. Silver Spring Md. 20904. Friday 2PM to 8PM, Saturday and Sunday 10AM-5PM.